

Product Positioning Statement

Kivi can listen to every word people type, on every app. It is thus the last piece of the system to be trusted to profile who does the work, and the only one that can remember their entire output.

Kivi should have a long-lasting record of the work - decisions, commitments, ownership, project status and vocabulary - spread over weeks and applications due to semantic memory. not a person's likeness.

Kivi remembers what you say about your work. Kivi shows all of its contents. Kivi quotes the dictation for each answer. Kivi is silent when ignorant.
